

Figure S3. Root mean square deviation (RMSD) of enzyme-substrate complex during simulation. The plot shows RMSD as function of simulation time for the system with a deprotonated cysteine and a protonated histidine active site residues, average of coordinates used as reference.

