

Figure S2: The protein interaction network of the 602 database-associated deregulated genes (DEGsD). The DEGsD are displayed as nodes in a network, where connections between nodes represent protein–protein interactions or functional relationships, according to the STRING database [101]. Genes with more than 17 interactions were defined as hub genes and are indicated in yellow.