

Figure S1. Intracellular ROS levels in human ASCs after challenging with increasing concentrations of 4-HNE. Data are adjusted for cell viability as determined by MTT test and expressed as percentage of optical density relative to control test (Ctrl) that was considered as 100%.