

Travel Cognition After Coronavirus Outbreak

Dear Respondents,

This questionnaire asks for your thoughts about your possible travel in the 12 months after the coronavirus outbreak. Some questions ask how important something is (1 = not at all important; 5 = extremely important), and some questions ask how likely something is (1 = not at all likely; 5 = extremely likely). Some questions also give you the chance to add some further thoughts or comments.

There are no right or wrong answers. We also ask for a little information about yourself, to help group and understand your answers in the following analysis. Your answers are confidential, and they will be grouped with those of many other people. Thank you.
