

Figure S1: The relationship between pre-plant N rate and relative rice grain yield as described by a quadratic-plateau linear regression model. The vertical dashed line at 183 kg N ha<sup>-1</sup> represents the N rate where the relationship reaches a plateau, and the error bar around the line represents the standard error.