

Figure Supplementary S1. Blood glucose comparisons derived from the patient blood glucose profiles using home blood glucose monitoring over the 12-week period of the trial, showing that there were no between or within group changes for either the date fruit or the raisins groups.

