

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIALS

Supplementary Figure S1: Residential region of the celiac disease responders (N=3529).

Supplementary Figure S2: Reasons that led to the celiac disease diagnosis (N=3529).

Compliance and attitudes towards the gluten-free diet in celiac patients in Italy: What has changed after a decade?

Supplementary Figure S3: Information received at the diagnosis (N=3529). Multiple answers were allowed. Abbreviations: AIC, Italian Celiac Association—Associazione Italiana Celiachia

Supplementary Figure S4: Sources of information about the gluten-free diet (N=3529). Multiple answers were allowed.

Supplementary Figure S5: Definition of “gluten-free diet transgression” chosen by the responders in 2011 (N=2427) and 2022 (N=3529). Multiple answers were allowed.

Supplementary Figure S6: Motivations for gluten-free diet transgression (N=326). Multiple answers were allowed.

Supplementary Figure S7: The person to whom celiac disease patients confess their transgression (N=326). Multiple answers were allowed.