

From: Dance Studies Association info@dancestudiesassociation.org 🚩
Subject: Re: Permission to use an article published by SDHS
Date: 18 September 2023 - 3:04 PM
To: Barbara Dickinson bhdic@duke.edu

DA

Hello Barbara,

Thank you for reaching out and apologies for the delayed response! You are very welcome to republish your work anywhere you like. We just ask that you include the following text as a footnote/endnote:

This paper was originally published by The Society of Dance History Scholars, conference proceedings 2004. The Society of Dance History Scholars was merged with the Congress on Research in Dance in 2017, and is now the Dance Studies Association.

Please let us know if you have any further questions!

Take good care,

Maggie Bridger
Administrative Fellow, Dance Studies Association
PhD Candidate, University of Illinois, Chicago

Dance Studies Association (DSA)
>c/o Melissa Blanco Borelli
70 Arts Circle Drive
Evanston, IL 60208
(708) 550-3199

On Wed, Sep 6, 2023 at 12:07 PM Barbara Dickinson <bhdic@duke.edu> wrote:

Hello,

In 2004, I presented my paper "Walking Miracles: A Process Narrative of an Original Dance/Theater Work Created from Stories Told by Six Survivors of Child Sexual Abuse" at the Society for Dance History Scholars 2004 Conference. I then published that paper in the Society of Dance History Scholars Proceedings for the Twenty-Seventh Annual Conference in 2005.

I am currently writing an article that is an expansion upon that paper, and I would like to be able to use the paper in whole or in part for the new article.

What is the process for requesting such permission?

Many Thanks,
Barbara

Barbara Dickinson
Professor Emerita of the Practice of Dance
Duke University Dance Program
<http://danceprogram.duke.edu>