

Figure S1. The PSP proteins are necessary for plague by either bubonic or pneumonic infection. Groups of Swiss Webster mice were challenged by either the subcutaneous or whole body aerosol route, as indicated, with the designated CO92 mutant strain. The calculated LD<sub>50</sub> values are included in Table 2.