Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Allergies (ISSN 2313-5786) is an international, scientific, peer-reviewed, open access journal of allergy and immunology published quarterly online. The journal publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications. Allergies is a young international journal that aims to reach the allergologist community for the benefit of us all. We are confident that this journal will grow rapidly and contribute to the dissemination of peer-reviewed allergology data.
