

Special Issue

New Technologies in Geo-Hazards Analysis, Hydrogeology and River Restoration

Message from the Guest Editor

In this Special Issue, we invite authors to submit original research papers, reviews, and viewpoint articles related to recent advances at all levels of the applications and technologies of geo-hazards analysis, hydrogeology, and river restoration. We are particularly interested in presenting emerging technologies related to coupled or separate approaches that may have a significant impact on this research field. We are open to papers addressing a broad range of topics, from foundational topics regarding theoretical issues of hydro-geo-hazards to novel algorithms improving classical vision problems, advanced and technological systems for interesting applications, and innovative approaches from the perspective of a coupled or separate approach to environmental restoration.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the world of science becomes ever more specialized, researchers may lose themselves in the deep forest of the ever increasing number of subfields being created. This open access journal Applied Sciences has been started to link these subfields, so researchers can cut through the forest and see the surrounding, or quite distant fields and subfields to help develop his/her own research even further with the aid of this multi-dimensional network.
