New Biomaterials, Delivery Systems and Nanomedicines for Bone Regeneration

Message from the Guest Editor

For this Special Issue we invite you to submit your innovative basic science and preclinical work in the area of bone regeneration. We are interested in in vitro and in vivo studies that explore and characterize the effects and mechanisms of new biomaterials, delivery systems and nanomedicines on the cellular and molecular level. Topics include but are not limited to functional biomaterials, slow-release systems, delivery systems for osteogenic molecules, nanoparticles, RNA and DNA delivery, viral and non-viral gene therapy, and cell therapy.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Biomedicines (ISSN 2227-9059) is an open access journal devoted to all aspects of research on human health and disease, the discovery and characterization of new therapeutic targets, therapeutic strategies, and research of naturally driven biomedicines, pharmaceuticals, and biopharmaceutical products. Topics include pathogenesis mechanisms of diseases, translational medical research, biomaterial in biomedical research, natural bioactive molecules, biologics, vaccines, gene therapies, cell-based therapies, targeted specific antibodies, recombinant therapeutic proteins, nanobiotechnology driven products, targeted therapy, bioimaging, biosensors, biomarkers, and biosimilars. The journal is open for publication of studies conducted at the basic science and preclinical research levels. We invite you to consider submitting your work to Biomedicines, be it original research, review articles, or developing Special Issues of current key topics.
