

Special Issue

Diagnosis and Management of Gynecological Cancers: Third Edition

Message from the Guest Editor

I cordially invite you to share your discoveries and observations in the field of oncological gynecology with the scientific community and the medical world. This Special Issue will publish reviews and original papers concerning recent advances in diagnostic (based on AI, radiotracers, SLN mapping, biomarkers, DNA/mRNA agents, and molecular biology), imaging (expert ultrasonography and hysteroscopy), and treatment modalities (tips and tricks in surgery, minimally invasive techniques, tailored systemic therapy, immunotherapy, side-effect management, complication management, terminal phase of cancer management, oncofertility, and cancer treatment during pregnancy) for these types of cancer. I invite you to contribute to this fascinating field of research.
