

Special Issue

Advances in Radio, Visible Light Communications, and Fiber Optics

Message from the Guest Editors

The main objective of this Special Issue is to provide original and high-quality contributions that address both theoretical and practical aspects of systems development in radio communications, optical communications (OC), visible light communications, optical camera communications (OCC) and the Internet of Things (IoT). It will highlight state-of-the-art research and innovative applications and provide new perspectives for future initiatives and challenges. The topics of interest include but are not limited to:

- New applications of radio/OC/VLC/OCC systems;
- Video processing for OCC;
- Visible light positioning (VLP);
- V2X/IoT/smart city systems;
- Electronic circuits for modulation/demodulation;
- Efficient driver and receiver design, noise characterization;
- Security issues for radio/OC/VLC/OCC/IoT;
- Machine learning strategies for VLC/OCC;
- Information theory for VLC;
- Coding and modulation for VLC;
- Efficient signal processing for VLC;
- Underwater VLC systems;
- Diversity/MIMO technique implementation.
