Selected Papers from the 6th International Conference on Smart Energy Grid Engineering (SEGE 2018)

Message from the Guest Editor

The 6th International Conference on Smart Energy Grid Engineering (SEGE) (<http://www.sege-conference.com/index.html>) has took place at UOIT, Ontario, Canada, 12–15 August, 2018. The SEGE conference aims at providing an opportunity to discuss various engineering challenges of smart energy grid design and operation by focusing on advanced methods and practices for designing different components and their integration within the grid. It also provides a forum for researchers from academia and professionals from industry, as well as government regulators, to tackle these challenges, and discuss and exchange knowledge and best practices about design and implementation of smart energy grids. Authors of papers related to energy presented at the conferences are invited to submit extended versions of their work to the Special Issue for publication.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
