

Special Issue

Challenges and Research Trends of Smart Grids and Distribution Network

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to inform you that we are planning a Special Issue entitled Challenges and Research Trends of Smart Grids and Distribution Networks. In this context, research activities play a fundamental role in evaluating the technical and economic benefits of applying new technologies and adopting innovative frameworks that enable the use of energy flexibility resources such as EV, storage systems, and demand response. The motivation for this Special Issue lies in the need to collect the most recent and advanced studies on the challenges and research trends in smart grids and distribution networks, focusing on technical matters from the perspective of the power system. We invite all interested colleagues to contribute their state-of-the-art review papers or latest studies related to the challenges and research trends of smart grids and distribution networks. We hope that this initiative will be well received and we look forward to your contributions. Sincerely,

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.
