

Special Issue

Energy Performance of Buildings 2021

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue aims at stimulating the exchange of ideas and knowledge on the deep energy renovation of buildings. To this purpose, original contributions containing theoretical and experimental research, case studies or a comprehensive state-of-the-art discussion are welcome for possible publication. Relevant topics for this Special Issue include but are not limited to the following:

- Deep energy renovation;
- nZEB renovation;
- Minimizing heat loss of the building envelope;
- Performance and energy efficiency of service systems;
- Prefabricated renovation solutions;
- Minimizing the energy performance gap;
- Cost-optimal measures for renovation.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Energies is an international, open access journal in energy engineering and research. The journal publishes original papers, review articles, technical notes, and letters. Authors are encouraged to submit manuscripts which bridge the gaps between research, development and implementation. The journal provides a forum for information on research, innovation, and demonstration in the areas of energy conversion and conservation, the optimal use of energy resources, optimization of energy processes, mitigation of environmental pollutants, and sustainable energy systems.

Editor-in-Chief
