

Special Issue

Food Aspects: From Prevention to Diet-Related Diseases

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to announce a new Special Issue entitled "Food Aspects: From Prevention to Diet-related Diseases". Article proposals should be focused on the following topics: Establishing the cause-and-effect relationship between food components, food extracts, and nutrition, in the context of health-promoting effects or diet-related metabolic disorders. Isolation, identification, and characterization of bioactive food derivative antioxidants, phytochemicals, protein, peptides, polysaccharides, etc. Effect of processing methods on the chemistry of bioactive constituents in food. Bioavailability of bioactive components in food. Development of innovative food solutions. This Special Issue encourages authors to submit their original research or review articles bringing new pieces of evidence or synthesis of the most recent and breakthrough data in the study of food components in health promotion and disease prevention, as well as the study of diet interconnected diseases.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Foods (ISSN 2304-8158) is an open access and peer reviewed scientific journal that publishes original articles, critical reviews, case reports, and short communications on food science. Articles are released monthly online, with unlimited free access. Currently, Foods has been indexed by the Science Citation Index Expanded (SCIE - Web of Science), PubMed, and Scopus. Our aim is to encourage scientists, researchers, and other food professionals to publish their experimental and theoretical results as much detail as possible. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global food science community.
