

Special Issue

Forest Management: Planning, Decision Making and Implementation

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue encourages the submission of studies from several fields for contributions regarding forest management. These contributions may include methodological papers, practical applications, decision making issues, etc. In addition to this, we would like to receive studies that promote the integration of different ecosystem services into forest management, decision-making processes through quantitative models, multiple criteria decision analysis, and group decision-making models. Potential topics include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Sustainable forest management;
- Forest economics;
- Forest industry analysis;
- Ecosystem services provided by forests;
- Forestry and climate change;
- Models for forest management;
- Decision support systems;
- Economic valuation;
- Forest fire management;
- Multiple criteria decision analysis (MCDA);
- Group decision models for forest management.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Forests (ISSN 1999-4907) is an international and cross-disciplinary, scholarly forestry journal. The distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access. Our goal is to have Forests be recognized as one of the foremost publication outlets for high quality, leading edge research in this broad and diverse field. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global forestry community.
