

Special Issue

Selected Papers from the 2nd International Electronic Conference on Forests (IECF2021)

Message from the Guest Editors

It is a pleasure to announce this Special Issue on 'Selected Papers from the 2nd International Electronic Conference on Forests (IECF2021)'. Forests are major sources of energy and materials and will play a key role in the transition to a low-carbon economy. The challenge lies in achieving multifunctionality where economic profit is maintained without penalty in climate mitigation, water regulation, biodiversity preservation, and the other goods and services provided by forests. This conference will provide leading scientists working in the field with an online platform on which to discuss these issues and share their latest research. The main topics and sessions of the SI include: Forest ecology and management; Forest ecophysiology, genetics, and molecular biology; Forest economics, policy, and social science; Forest inventory, modeling, and remote sensing; Wood science, forest products, and trade; Forest wildfire hazards, risks, and other disasters.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

Forests (ISSN 1999-4907) is an international and cross-disciplinary, scholarly forestry journal. The distinguished editorial board and refereeing process ensures the highest degree of scientific rigor and review of all published articles. Original research articles and timely reviews are released online, with unlimited free access. Our goal is to have Forests be recognized as one of the foremost publication outlets for high quality, leading edge research in this broad and diverse field. We therefore invite you to be one of our authors, and in doing so share your important research findings with the global forestry community.
