

Special Issue

Big Data Analytics, Privacy and Visualization

Message from the Guest Editors

The aim of this special issue is to collect state-of-the-art research findings on the latest development, up-to-date issues, and challenges in the field of big data analytics for business intelligence. Potential topics of interest include, but are not limited to the following:

- Innovative methods for big data analytics
- Techniques for mining unstructured, spatial-temporal, streaming, and/or multimedia data
- Machine learning from big data
- Search and optimization for big data
- Parallel accelerated and distributed big data analytics
- Value and performance of big data analytics
- Data visualization
- Real-world applications of big data analytics, such as default detection, cybercrime, e-commerce, e-health, etc.
- Improving forecasting models using big data analytics
- Security and privacy in the big data era
- Online community and big data

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Future Internet is a fast-growing journal devoted to rapid publications of the latest results in the general areas of computer networking/communications and information systems, with a focus on the Internet of Things, big data and augmented intelligence, smart systems (in terms of technologies, architectures, and applications), network virtualization, edge/fog computing, and cybersecurity. Both theoretical and experimental papers are welcome. Every year, Future Internet also features Special Issues dedicated to specific topics within the journal's scope.
