Responding to the Pandemic: Geriatric Care Models

Message from the Guest Editor

I am delighted to edit this Special Issue of Geriatrics focusing on “Responding to the Pandemic: Geriatric Care Models”. I invite you to contribute your innovative work focused on geriatric clinical care and caregiver support across the continuum of care. Potential contributors to this Special Issue may include investigators and participants in innovative models of care such as transitions of care models, telehealth programs, primary care, caregiver support, acute care for elderly units, person centered care, new payment and healthcare policy models, and quality assessment and performance improvement programs. Submissions with data and analyses are particularly welcome. Additionally, thoughtful descriptive proposals of best practices and new approaches to geriatric syndromes as well as the promotion of healthy aging and attitudes regarding aging and society, health policy concerns, and successful team-based and collaborative care models are welcome.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Our new journal is launched to serve geriatrics specialists and colleagues from other disciplines as an interface between theory and clinical practice. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, I kindly invite you to consider publishing your current work in Geriatrics. We have chosen the format of an open access journal to provide all interested parties with a platform for their basic research and health care studies as well. For details on the submission process or any other matter, please visit the journal website. I hope to handle your contribution to Geriatrics soon to publish innovative, relevant, thought provoking ideas.
