Feature Papers in Molecular Pharmacology

Message from the Collection Editor

The Topical Collection entitled “Feature Papers in Molecular Pharmacology” aims to collect high-quality research articles and reviews in the field of molecular pharmacology. We encourage Editorial Board Members of this IJMS Section to submit manuscripts reporting on significant advances in molecular pharmacology research. Special emphasis will be placed on drug effects upon nucleic acids, proteins involved in nucleic acid metabolism, and interaction of nucleic acids with proteins, by using the whole plethora of molecular biology methods. Genetic and epigenetic factors determining drug effects will be accordingly dealt with.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
