

Special Issue

Bioactive Molecules and Health

Message from the Guest Editor

This Special Issue aims to cover areas related to the potential health benefits of various bioactive molecules from plants. Specifically, this Special Issue will highlight the biological properties and molecular mechanisms in major pathologies in terms of public health, including metabolic diseases, cancers, degenerative age-related diseases, ocular diseases, and inflammatory/immune pathologies. Subtopics: - Structure–activity relationships of natural bioactive compounds. - Bioactive molecules and cancers. - Bioactive molecules and degenerative diseases. - Bioactive molecules and ocular diseases. - Bioactive molecules and inflammatory diseases. - Bioactive molecules and metabolic disorders.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, PMC, MEDLINE, Embase, CAPlus / SciFinder, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q1 (Biochemistry and Molecular Biology) / CiteScore - Q1 (Inorganic Chemistry)
