Molecular Mechanisms of Synaptic Plasticity: Dynamic Changes in Neurons Functions

Message from the Guest Editor

Dear colleagues, It's an extreme privilege for me, as the of International Journal of Molecular Sciences (open access journal, ISSN 1422-0067, Impact factor 4.183) to invite you to contribute at the Special Issue titled "Molecular Mechanisms of Synaptic Plasticity: Dynamic Changes in Neurons Functions" . With the aim to publish good research papers provided from specialists, I hope you will contribute to this Special Issue as expert in your area of interest. This Special Issue accepts Basic Research, and pre-clinic research articles, Case Reports, Case series or Clinical Image articles, Short communications, and Review articles. IJMS is an open access journal (with a fee for publishing of 1800 CHF (Swiss Francs). As an invited author, you would be entitled to 10% discount once your paper is accepted after peer-review. And you may be entitled to more discount if you have previously received a discount code or if your institute is participating in the MDPI Institutional Open Access Program (IOAP). I hope this topic is of interest to you and look forward to hearing from you.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The International Journal of Molecular Sciences (IJMS, ISSN 1422-0067) is an open access journal, which was established in 2000. The journal aims to provide a forum for scholarly research on a range of topics, including biochemistry, molecular and cell biology, molecular biophysics, molecular medicine, and all aspects of molecular research in chemistry. IJMS publishes both original research and review articles, and regularly publishes special issues to highlight advances at the cutting edge of research. We invite you to read recent articles published in IJMS and consider publishing your next paper with us.
