Advances in Vascular Aging

Message from the Guest Editors

this Special Issue will highlight emerging technologies and methodologies that contribute to a more nuanced understanding of vascular aging. Advanced imaging techniques, omics approaches, and experimental models provided by researchers are suggested to unravel the intricacies of vascular aging, paving the way for innovative diagnostic and therapeutic strategies. Contributions from experts in the field will offer a holistic view of vascular aging, encompassing its impact on various organs and systems. The interdisciplinary nature of the research presented is meant to emphasize the interconnectedness between vascular aging and other age-related conditions and to offer a comprehensive outlook for clinicians, researchers, and healthcare professionals. In conclusion, this Special Issue welcomes the basics with the aim of deepening our understanding of vascular aging and its implications. Contributions exploring the pathophysiological aspects and proposing innovative and ambitious therapeutic strategies are particularly encouraged.

About the Journal

Message from the Editorial Board

There has been an explosion of gene and target based research and therapeutics in the multitude of fields that compose clinical medicine. The Journal of Clinical Medicine's (JCM) staff and editorial board are dedicated to providing cutting edge, timely, and peer-reviewed articles covering the diverse subspecialties of clinical medicine. The journal publishes concise, innovative, and exciting research articles as well as clinically significant articles and reviews that are pertinent to the myriad of disciplines within medicine. The articles published are relevant to both primary care physicians and specialists. The journal's full-texts are archived in PubMed Central and indexed in PubMed. Please consider submitting your manuscripts for publication to our journal and check us out on-line!
