Editorial Board Members' Collection Series: Advanced Biomaterials for Tissue Regeneration and Repair

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to announce this Special Issue titled "Editorial Board Members' Collection Series: Advanced Biomaterials for Tissue Regeneration and Repair". This issue will comprise a collection of papers invited by the editorial board members with the aim of covering all aspects of biomaterials for tissue regeneration and repair. Eligible submissions will include original research papers, communications, and review articles. All papers will be published fully open access after completing peer review.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

The biomaterials field is one of the largest and fastest growing research areas both in the scientific community and in the industrial one. Biomaterials are the result of collaborations between different disciplines: chemistry, medicine, pharmacology, engineering and biology. The objective of this collaboration is to lead to the implementation of new devices to restore form and human body functions. The mission of the Journal of Functional Biomaterials (JFB) is to focus attention on physico-chemical characteristics and their importance in the interactions between biomaterials and living tissues. JFB seeks to publish studies on the preparation, performance and use of biomaterials in biomedical devices, as well as regarding their behavior in physiological environments. We are pleased to welcome you as our authors.
