Personalized Medicine in Otolaryngology: Special Topic Otology

Message from the Guest Editors

In collaboration with Journal of Personalized Medicine (IF: 4.945), in my capacity as I am helping to organize a Special Issue entitled "Personalized Medicine in Otolaryngology: Otology". This Special Issue on otology aims to give a broad overview of personalized hearing rehabilitation across all ages and indications (very young children, adults, and very old adults), different applications, as well as necessary rehabilitation options. The title is kept broad to cover all aspects of personalized treatment options and their positive impact on a patient's quality of life, from auditory brainstem implants to cochlear implants, bone conduction implants, and middle-ear implants. In the past several decades, the technology behind all the above-mentioned hearing implants has developed immensely. This Special Issue on otology aims to discuss and broadcast some of the recent achievements and even provide a perspective on future developments in hearing technology.
