Noninvasive Skin Imaging: The Present and the Future in General Dermatology

Message from the Guest Editors

We invite scholars and researchers to contribute to our upcoming Special Issue on “Noninvasive Skin Imaging: The Present and the Future in General Dermatology”.

This issue aims to explore recent advancements, innovative methodologies, and significant findings in the field of skin imaging. Topics of interest include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Diagnostic applications;
- Imaging techniques;
- Machine learning applications;
- Clinical correlations;
- Therapeutic implications;
- Emerging trends and technologies.

We encourage submissions of original research articles, reviews, and perspectives that will contribute to the advancement of knowledge in noninvasive skin imaging. Join us in shaping the discourse and fostering collaboration in this rapidly evolving domain.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Life (ISSN 2075-1729) is an international, peer-reviewed open access journal that publishes scientific studies related to fundamental themes in life sciences. Some papers are published individually, while others are submitted for inclusion in special issues with guest editors. You are invited to contribute a research article, essay, or a review to be considered for publication.
