Breakthrough Developments in Fundamental Studies and Applications of Deep Eutectic Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

This Special Issue is related to The 2nd International Meeting on Deep Eutectic Systems, which will be the second event of a fruitful series of meetings where scientists, students, and industry partners can discuss current developments and innovations based on the extraordinary properties of deep eutectic systems (DES). The conference will be hosted online from the 15-17th June 2021. DES have shown great promise for application in several different areas, such as chemistry, electrochemistry, biotechnology, health and pharma, cosmetics or the paper industry. The conference will address the following topics: extraction and separation, fundamental properties, biotech, materials, and energy and electrochemistry. Participants of the symposium, as well as all researchers working in the field, are cordially invited to contribute original research papers or reviews to this Special Issue of Molecules, which report on any of these topics.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

As the premier open access journal dedicated to experimental organic chemistry, and now in its 25th year of publication, the papers published in Molecules span from classical synthetic methodology to natural product isolation and characterization, as well as physicochemical studies and the applications of these molecules as pharmaceuticals, catalysts and novel materials. Pushing the boundaries of the discipline, we invite papers on multidisciplinary topics bridging biochemistry, biophysics and materials science, as well as timely reviews and topical issues on cutting edge fields in all these areas.
