Population Pharmacokinetics in Oncology and Its Clinical Applications

Message from the Guest Editors

We are pleased to invite you to contribute to a Special issue of the peer-reviewed, open-access journal Pharmaceutics, which will be devoted to “Population Pharmacokinetics in Oncology and Its Clinical Applications”. This Special Issue aims to encourage scientists and clinicians to publish their observations, experimental results, and theoretical assumptions to capture the current state-of-the-art advances in the PK–PD characterization of anticancer agents, encompassing traditional chemotherapies, recent protein kinase inhibitors, and monoclonal antibodies. Our goal is to encourage translational efforts in bringing this knowledge closer to medical applications, such as therapeutic drug monitoring and further treatment individualization approaches. We believe that these efforts represent an important component of the widely advocated precision oncology, alongside the approaches capitalizing on tumor genetics. We look forward to receiving your contributions.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Pharmaceutics (ISSN 1999-4923) is an online open access journal on the science and technology of pharmaceuticals and biopharmaceuticals. The scientific community, the wider community and the general public have unlimited and free access to the content as soon as a paper is published; this open access to your research ensures your findings are shared with the widest possible audience. Please consider publishing your impressive work in this high quality journal. We would be pleased to welcome you as one of our authors.
