Review Papers in Sensors and Sensing Technologies

Message from the Guest Editor

We are pleased to announce that the journal Sensors (ISSN 1424-8220) is now compiling a collection of review papers related to sensors and sensing technologies. This Special Issue includes high-quality papers under the broad scope of Sensors. The purpose of this Special Issue is to publish a set of papers that typify the very best insightful and influential reviews where relevant scholars discuss key topics in the field. We expect these papers to be widely read and highly influential within the field. All papers included in this Special Issue will be collected into a print edition book after the deadline and promoted.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.
