AI-Aided Wireless Sensor Networks and Smart Cyber-Physical Systems

Message from the Guest Editors

As part of modern communication technologies, a variety of sensors are deployed to exchange data between the physical and cyber worlds. In the age of 5G, wireless sensor networks (WSNs) promise to overturn human-machine interactive styles in Internet-of-Things (IoT) and Internet-of-Vehicles (IoV) industries. The integrity of WSN and emerging technologies, e.g., AI, edge computing, unmanned aerial vehicles (UAV), intelligent buildings, and smart grids, has also enabled new mobile applications, such as virtual reality (VR)/augmented reality (AR), holographic telemedicine, autonomous driving, indoor localization, and crowd behavior identification. On the other hand, cyber-physical systems (CPSs) feature tight coordination between computations and controls via networking communications. Detailed studies of WSNs and CPSs will significantly contribute to developing 5G/AI networking technologies. For detailed information, please visit here.

About the Journal

Message from the Editor-in-Chief

Sensors is a leading journal devoted to fast publication of the latest achievements of technological developments and scientific research in the huge area of physical, chemical and biochemical sensors, including remote sensing and sensor networks. Both experimental and theoretical papers are published, including all aspects of sensor design, technology, proof of concept and application. Sensors organizes Special Issues devoted to specific sensing areas and applications each year.

Author Benefits

Open Access:

free for readers, with article processing charges (APC) paid by authors or their institutions.

High Visibility:

indexed within Scopus, SCIE (Web of Science), PubMed, MEDLINE, PMC, Ei Compendex, Inspec, Astrophysics Data System, and other databases.

Journal Rank:

JCR - Q2 (Chemistry, Analytical) / CiteScore - Q1 (Instrumentation)
