

Special Issue

The Road to Sustainable Resources and Environmental Economics

Message from the Guest Editor

The need of a sustainable resources and environmental economics is becoming more and more important at the request of Carbon Peak. In this context, this Special Issue focuses on sustainable resources and environmental economics, committing to the dual conditions of resource and environmental development and carbon emission constraints. Hence, the present Special Issue aims to gather a series of manuscripts relating to the main methods of resources and environmental impacts associated with the constraints of carbon emission.
