

Special Issue

Sustainability in Mining

Message from the Guest Editors

Sustainability launches a Special Issue on environmental sustainability in mining, and Claudia Di Noi serve as .

The Special Issue focuses on three points:

- The ways to determine the environmental and sustainability impact of mining, in a fair, sufficiently comprehensive, and efficient way;
- The ways to make mining more sustainable, with emphasis on environmental impacts, illustrated with practical cases or theory;
- The ways, and good and not so good practices, to communicate information about environmental and other sustainability impacts, of mining activities, to local communities, and other stakeholders.

Contributions are welcome!
